HOLIDAY MIX-UP

A meteor from the ice planet Millennium streaks toward Earth. This cool space rock really cools off the atmosphere. It starts snowing everywhere, even underground and in the jungle. Not only does the weather get strange, everything else gets mixed up. The only way things will get back to normal in time for the holidays is to send the Millennium meteor back into space. (But that's another story. And it starts on page 4! See how 2 normal kids save the holidays from this space invader.)

Meanwhile, look for all the mixed up stuff in this scene. Then, see if you can find at least 5 more strange things in the story starting on page 4. Nick and Holly were so busy that they never saw all the strangeness around them.

THINGS TO LOOK FOR:

- Johnny Thunder's Hat
- Adventurer's Map
- Achu

Holly and Nick's Unbelievable Adventure!

During winter break, Nick and I saw this awesome meteorite crash. Space rocks would make the coolest holiday gifts. But instead of the meteorite, we found this strange gold disc.

Suddenly, the ground began to crumble and the DISK started glowing. We fell through the hole and landed, yuck, right in this sticky spider web.

Then a big, black, hairy spider with HUGE claws crept toward us. Luckily, the Maniac cut us out of the web and we took off! We found this old boat and a treasure map. The map explained the Legend of Achu. Achu was keeper of the powerful sun disc. Now we knew what we found!

We sailed the boat to these cool ruins. There, I discovered a glowing crystal. That's when we ran into BIG trouble! We were headed towards the edge of a waterfall and the entrance of a dark cave!

You won't believe this fantastic holiday adventure. It's a good thing I took pictures! Keep your eyes open for strange things!

In the Ruins!

Cool Crystal!

I think someone is watching us.

I Think we got rid of all these Guys!

Sailing, Sailing!

Land ho!

Looks like we're heading for a fall...

Smile and say ho, ho, ho.

CAVE!

Achu's neck must get tired wearing that thing

Our story continues on the next page

those walls,
Holly.

And let it glow, Nick.

I found
This in my Boot

We survived the falls and our boat cruised along an underground river until it became too narrow. We abandoned ship and walked down a tunnel. The tunnel was smooth like it was drilled through the rock. It was! We heard a grinding noise and this big drilling machine popped through a wall. Out jumped a Rock Raider, and he gave us a ride to their HQ. The Rock Raiders had been working so hard that they didn't know it was holiday time! We helped them decorate headquarters.

Then Nick and I went to dig up some more holiday gifts. We found a vein of brickonium ore, but an angry Rock Monster found us. We must have drilled into his cave. To calm him down, I tossed him our crystal. He smiled, I think, and threw us a present. It was the meteorite! After swapping presents with the Rock Monster, we headed back to the surface just as a blizzard started.

Rocky

In a GRIND!

What's that moving over there?

I think we hit pay dirt!

After we blasted through with the laser, we found the CRYSTALS!

Happy Hoildays from the ROCK MONSTER!

We were all SHAKING when we saw the ROCK MONSTER!

It's the meteor!

Nick was scared

What the...

I wasn't shaking. The ground was!

is that my Dad's wrench?

Load and GO!

This story really takes off in Space port!

When we came out of the Underground it was SNOWING

Let's roll!

I feel like a mole climbing out of a hole!

Nice wrapping job!

Turn the page for the exciting conclusion!!!

Opening our PRESENT!

Nick, you better put that back on the SHUTTLE!

How do you return a meteorite?

Here we go again!

Get that rock back into space!

The scientists at Mission Control helped us crack open the meteorite. The weird, glowing crystal inside was causing a severe BLIZZARD throughout the Earth. We decided we'd better return it to space before it did more damage to the planet.

We trained for our emergency mission at the Space Simulation Station. When we were ready, the shuttle blasted off. It was the most awesome experience of my life. What a totally cool view of Earth!

We tossed the space rock back with the shuttle's Canadian arm. Then, as I did a little spacewalking, we had one last surprise. A UFO zoomed right over us. No one got a real good look at it. I thought it looked like a sleigh, but I was floating upside-down at the time.

After returning to Earth, we decided to give our friends and family normal presents for the holidays!

I've been looking for that!

Training for our Mission.

Gee, how many G's is this G-force sling slinging?

There was a blizzard in Space Port. Snow fooling!

I've been flying for hours and haven't gone anywhere!

Holly was a little Dizzy

Astronauts need lots of tools!

BLAST OFF!

Let's ROCK and ROLL!

Returning the ROCK!

Spacewalking is fun. You should try it!

Quit goofing off and get back in here, Holly!

That's our Mission Patch

The UFO!

There's the UFO!

Was that a sleigh?

A little faster and I would have had that UFO on film!

Did you see that?

The ADVENTURERS!

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

Hey, I thought we returned that?
